

Sensory Details: Personal Narrative

Sensory details are details in a text that help you imagine and visualize what you're reading. They are details that appeal to the five senses.

Think about your personal narrative. Brainstorm details that could be used in your draft.

Sensory Details: Personal Narrative

whitish-gray smoke
so thick, it was hard to see

eyes burning & watering coughing

red glow in the hills
black smoke above trees, turning gray and white as it rose in the air

pouring water from the hose, spraying water all over house

papery white ash falling everywhere, falling and drifting down like snow

strong smell of smoke smelled like charcoal in a bbq sirens from fire engines

police, using megaphone, telling
people to leave

feel in your lungs, from the smoke

Sensory Details: Personal Narrative

Sensory details are details in a text that help you imagine and visualize what you're reading. They are details that appeal to the five senses.

mom's window
saw police cars (12)
stopped in the middle street, pointing in different angles

man in handcuffs
beard

dark, late at night
no street lights
only lights were from house lights

sirens wailing
woo-woo-woo

pounding
footsteps,
heavy
shoes/boots

Sensory Details in my Personal Narrative

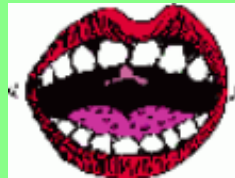

Sensory details are details in a text that help you imagine and visualize what you're reading. They are details that appeal to the five senses.

shiny,
bright
red

rock crash into my shoulder

Sensory Details in my Personal Narrative

Sensory details are details in a text that help you imagine and visualize what you're reading. They are details that appeal to the five senses.

buttery popcorn

laughing

nauseating,
toxic, stomach-
churning vomit

screaming